1971 Martin is sold to Leblanc of Kenosha & the new Committee trumpet is designed by Larry Ramirez.

1972 Leblanc signs a deal with Yamaha to produce all of their student instruments (about 90% of sales). The professional models continue to be made in Elkhorn or Kenosha.

2004 Martin is bought by Steinway and all production ends in Kenosha and Elkhart.

2008 All outsourced Martin instrument production ends.

Instruments marked “Martin Busine” are not related to the Martin Company. Some saxophones are reported as being Dolnet or Grassi stencils and could be purchased through The Unity Catalog which later became LaBelle’s. These would date to the 1960s and 1970s. One cornet found was marked “Italy” and a trumpet was marked “Czechoslovakia”.
