

John C. Rosenbeck

New York City

- 1800 Rosenbeck is born c.1800-1810 (1840 census).
- 1835 Exhibits brass trombones & other instruments at the Castle Garden Fair in NYC. Judged as superior quality from Utica. One judge, well-known player Felipe Cioffi, liked them so much that he bought an alto and tenor trombone for himself (Journal of American Institute).
- 1836 Rosenbeck of Utica won diploma for a trombone at the October fair at Niblo's Garden in NYC (Journal of American Institute).
- 1837 Rosenbeck of Utica won another trombone award at Niblo's Fair (Fair of American Institute).
- 1838 Rosenbeck is at #81 Division St, NYC (directory).
- 1839 John C. Rosenbeck, #1 Orchard St, NYC, won a diploma at Niblo's Garden Fair in October for a silver cornopean (newspaper article). He is also in the NYC directory.
- 1839 Rosenbeck returns to Utica (NLI).
- 1840 John living in Utica with wife and five children (census).
- 1857 Rosenbeck exhibits Boehm flute in NY (NLI).